

Minnesota Renaissance Festival 2023 Audition Information

Huzzah! The Minnesota Renaissance Festival is preparing for the 2023 Festival season. Our entertainment cast has over 400 performers including actors, musicians, and stage acts. We are looking for actors to be interactive street theater characters, in character groups, or to perform in Shakespearean based stage shows; and musicians, vaudevillians, and street / stage acts. Seasoned performers, Festival participants who want to try something new, former Festival patrons, and those new to the Festival are all welcome to audition. Perhaps you can join us in our revelry!

We'd love to see what you can bring to the Festival, although we're looking for a few specifics...

Fairies, fae characters, and hobbits to host crafting and to entertain children and families as a part of the Fairywing Forest character group resident characters in the Celtic Cottage character group peasant and merchant class interactive street characters who live and work in the village historical characters - e.g. Galileo, Michelangelo, Bruegel, Copernicus, Kepler, Thomas Tallis, Kit Marlowe, Edward, Kynaston, Richard Burbage, William Kempe, John Heminges, Emilia Lanier characters from 16th century (or earlier) literature, legend, and lore - e.g. Arthurian legend Shakespearean players

stocks keepers

hawkers to support gathering patrons for stage acts

a small crew of entertainers who can work with theme weekend, marketing, and special events street acts, musicians, and entertainers that are interested in developing a street show

MNRF veteran performers who are considering a new character or act, or who did not work the Festival in 2023 and are considering returning should plan on attending and participating in auditions.

WHEN

Expectations / What to prepare...

Bring a headshot / photograph of yourself, and your resume.

Complete an MRF 2023 Audition Form.

Characters - Prepare a short period appropriate reading (e.g. a poem or Shakespearean passage) of no more than two minutes; have some ideas about a potential character (see list above); and be prepared to interact with other auditionees.

Musicians - Prepare 2 songs that demonstrate some variety, you may not need to perform all pieces fully.

Acts - Prepare a 5 to 10 minute performance.

Dress comfortably for movement, costumes are not necessary.

First year entertainers are required to attend the MRF Performing Cast Academy which is held from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm on Saturdays, starting June 10, and running 7 sessions through July 29 at the Pavilion on the site of the Festival in Shakopee. There is also an All Cast event on site on Sunday, August 6.

First year entertainers may not be offered a salaried contract, but will be required to work one 2-hour shift each of the 16 Festival days at the King's or Queen's gate, for which they will receive per shift pay. Gate shifts will be scheduled through either the King's Gate Manager or the Artistic & Entertainment Director.

Entertainers who are under 18 years old (minors) must be accompanied on site during Festival days by a parent or legal guardian.

Entertainers who work the Festival are responsible for providing their own costume that meets with approval from the Entertainment Costume Consultant.
